Product Description:

The Calf Jacket comes with a unique collar design that features both snap fixing and velcro bonding. This ensures that the jacket stays securely in place, even when your calf is moving around or playing in the fields. The collar also provides additional warmth and protection to your calf's neck and upper body, helping to reduce the risk of sickness and mortality.

One of the main functions of the Calf Jacket is to keep your female calves warm and comfortable during the cold winter months. This is especially important for young calves, who are more susceptible to cold temperatures and other environmental factors. By providing your calves with the warmth and protection they need, you can help to reduce the risk of sickness and mortality, ensuring that your herd stays healthy and strong.

Overall, the Calf Jacket is an essential item for any farmer who wants to keep their female calves warm and comfortable during the winter months. With its unique collar design, lightweight construction, and superior warmth and protection, this jacket is the perfect choice for your junior bovine outerwear needs.
